

CAR JUMPED

The Track when Motor-man was Assaulted.

ONE MAN KILLED,

Six Persons Injured and a Building Partly Demolished are Incidents of a Street Car Strike.

EVANVILLE, Ind., May 18.—After a day of rioting, violence and accident the second day of the street car strike ended with one man dead, six persons injured and street car traffic suspended. Mayor Boehne last night called a special meeting of the board of safety and ordered 200 special policemen sworn in. The dead:

James Cates, Central City, Ky., strike sympathizer. Injured: Beane Kohn, 18 months old, crushed under falling building. James Williams, Louisville, Ky., strike sympathizer, crushed by falling bricks. Grant Kinney, strike breaker, Nashville. Felix Oden, strike breaker, Nashville. Mrs. Orville Rhodes, leg broken. Harry Miller, cut in back and head. A street car manned by a non-union crew going at full speed jumped a curve at eighth and Walnut streets Friday afternoon, partly destroying the building, killing Cates and injuring four persons, including Baby Kohn. The street car company says that a strike sympathizer boarded the car and after knocking down the motorman and conductor, threw on the power to the limit, causing the derailment of the car.

Grant Kinney and Felix Oden, strike breakers, were assaulted on the corner of Fulton avenue and Franklin street by a mob of several hundred persons. Both were knocked down and kicked. Oden's ear was cut off and his arm was fractured.

FRISCO'S MAYOR TALKS.

He Denies that He Has Resigned His Office and Says Rief Never Paid Him Any Bribe Money.

San Francisco, May 18.—In a statement to the Evening Post Mayor Schmitz on Friday said: "The statement that I have handed the reins of government to any person or committee is an unqualified falsehood. I called the committee of 50 together some time ago in order that I might take advantage of the advice of the best citizens of the city in a financial and industrial crisis. This committee of 50 selected sub-committees in order that the important work might be systematized and carried out, and one of the committees is the so-called committee of seven. "I have not resigned, nor yielded my prerogative to anybody, and any statement to the contrary is a malicious falsehood. There is no reason why I should pass over the reins of government to other people. "As for Rief's charges I will say he has never paid me any bribe money and he knows it. If he says he paid bribe money to me, he simply lies. I only know that he has made such charges from what I am told and from the newspaper reports."

Patrick Calhoun, president of the United Railways, said yesterday that if Abraham Rief had told the grand jury that the United Railways, through some of its officials, bribed the supervisors, Rief's statement was absolutely false. Abraham Rief on Friday in his second appearance before the grand jury testified regarding the Parkside Traction Co. deal, by which, according to the prosecution, the directorate of the Parkside corporation paid to Rief $30,000 to procure a franchise to enhance the value of the lots composing the Parkside real estate tract.

GATHERED IN OHIO.

Arrested for Alleged Blackmailing. Mansfield, O., May 18.—Charles O. Simmons, a Columbus business man, was arrested Friday on the charge of blackmailing Luther Swigart, 82, one of the wealthiest men in this section, whom Simmons had previously charged with alienation of Mrs. Simmons' affections. Simmons came on from Columbus with his attorney, O. J. Ross. The two, it is charged, went to Swigart's home with a petition they said was to be filed in court, suing Swigart for $20,000 for alienation of affections. They read the charge to Swigart, who was prostrated by the charge. His son-in-law, G. O. Huppf, swore out a warrant for Simmons and he was lodged in jail. Huppf declared Simmons got $3,000 from Swigart under threats.

Harris Wants North to Resign. Columbus, O., May 18.—The term of Dr. D. W. Greene, of Dayton, as a member of the state fish and game commission expired Thursday, but the governor has taken no action regarding it. It is intimated that he is not likely to make an appointment for some time. It is believed that the governor would like to have the president of the board, Paul North, of Cleveland, retire. As the board stands there is not one personal representative of the governor in it. North admitted recently that the governor had practically asked for his resignation. He also said he had no intention of presenting it.

Elopers are Arrested. Cleveland, May 18.—Mrs. Clara Meyers, a well dressed young woman, and Robert Rowe, aged 28, who registered as a salesman from Chicago, were locked up at Central police station as elopers Friday. Cleveland, May 18.—The jury in the suit brought by Kate Dolan, landress, to recover $3,400 on notes of Philander Johnson, millionaire, awarded her $4,329 Friday afternoon. Chardon, O., May 18.—Although Miss Pearl Gray, the young teacher of North Chardon who was assaulted the other day by two women, is still teaching she has only one scholar left in her school. INDISCREET,

To Say the Least, was Gov. Gooding's Action.

IN ORCHARD CASE.

Judge Wood, Presiding in the Haywood Trial, Asks the Prosecutor to Investigate.

Boise, Idaho, May 18.—Judge Fremont Wood, presiding at the trial of William D. Haywood, on Friday directed the prosecuting attorney of Ada county to make an investigation of the circumstances under which Harry Orchard, confessed slayer of ex-Gov. Steunenberg, was interviewed for publication on Thursday and take any legal steps that his inquiry should be warranted.

Judge Wood drew attention to the publication of the interviews when he ascended the bench and his request of counsel for advice as to the manner in which the court should deal with the incident brought from the defense the charge that Gov. Gooding and certain newspapers, moved by the disclosure that there exists prejudice against Harry Orchard, had sought to influence the jury by an attempt to bolster up Orchard's story, and the suggestion that Gov. Gooding be cited for contempt.

Counsel for the prosecution defended Gooding and the newspapers included in the charges and showed that the applications for the interview with Orchard had been made weeks before the examination of witnesses disclosed any prejudice against him. They in turn charged that while some of the talesmen were entering court Friday morning men indirectly connected with the defense had made remarks within their hearing that were intended to influence them, and this affair is also to be made the subject of inquiry by the prosecuting attorney.

In calling attention to the Orchard interviews, Judge Wood said that perhaps their publication was not an attempt to influence the jury, but as it was likely to influence the jurors, he felt that something must be done to prevent a recurrence of such a thing in order to procure a jury. The fifth peremptory challenge, representing a total of three by the defense and two by the state, was made late in the afternoon and at adjournment an effort to fill the place made vacant was in progress. There are 16 more challenges to be exhausted, and of the special venire of 100 talesmen only 34 remain.

Judge Hargis Again Testifies. Lexington, Ky., May 18.—Ex-Judge James Hargis, on trial for the murder of James Cockrell, said Friday he and his brother, Alexander Hargis, who is awaiting trial for the murder of Cockrell, frequently quarreled. He said that Alexander had struck him with a gun over the head and had drawn a pistol on him. Judge Hargis denied the truth of the evidence of every witness that had testified against him.

BUSINESS BULLETIN.

Improvement in Retail Trade Follows the Advent of Warmer Weather. New York, May 18.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says: Improvement in retail trade followed the advent of seasonable weather at many points, and payments were more prompt as spring merchandise was distributed, but conditions are still irregular. Sensational advances in prices of farm products, especially wheat, followed reports of extensive damage to the crops, but frequent reactions emphasized the speculative nature of the rise in quotations and tended to restore confidence.

Wholesale trade in fall goods in brisk from all points except where the crops have been seriously injured, and the net result of this forward business makes the outlook for the future fairly satisfactory. Manufacturing plants are kept busy, a further increase in the rate of pig iron production failing to keep pace with consumption. Freight movement is prompt, the supply of rolling stock more nearly equalling requirements, and there are fewer complaints of delays.

Engineer and Conductor Killed. Oil City, Pa., May 18.—A work train on the Pennsylvania road left the rails near Tidoute, while running at high speed Friday. The engine and seven cars plunged over an embankment. Engineer O'Flaherty and Conductor Malone, of this city, who were in the cab of the locomotive, were caught in the wreck and killed.

Strikers Gain Ground.

New York, May 18.—The striking longshoremen made a gain Friday when 400 strike breakers quit work on the piers of the White Star line and joined their fortunes with those of the men whose places they had taken. One stevedore contractor in Brooklyn made terms with the strikers, granting the concessions sought. The other development of importance was the accidental shooting of Harry Marshall, a vegetable peddler in Hoboken, who was fatally wounded by a stray bullet from the revolver of Benjamin Vincent, said to be a private detective employed on the docks and who had been attacked by strikers.

Would Put All on a Tonnage Basis.

Toledo, May 18.—The project now being discussed by the delegates to the convention of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers in annual convention here, points to the placing of all men in the mills under the operation of the sliding scale based upon the selling price of the finished product. Under the present scale only part of the men work on the tonnage basis, while the other part are day workmen. The proposed change will put all men on the tonnage basis.

SHREDDED NEWS.

Gov. Hughes, of New York, has been elected president of the new northern Baptist convention which was organized recently at Washington.

Three men were painfully burned, 42 patients badly frightened and $5,000 damage done when an explosion of gas occurred at the Ohio Valley hospital, near Pittsburgh.

Orrin W. Potter, a pioneer steel man and multi-millionaire, whose life is linked with development of the steel industry of the United States, is dead at his home in Chicago.

At Warsaw, Russian Poland, a band of Terrorists held up the city office of the Viatska railroad and got away with $5,000 after a severe fight in which four persons were killed.

PONCE DE LEON'S SPRING.

Woman Has Refused to Sell the Property for $45,000.

There are ten acres of ground surrounding the spot where Ponce de Leon, on his second visit to what is now St. Augustine, discovered youth. History tells that he failed to locate it on his first visit from Spain to this section, but that on a second trip, in 1513, he was more successful. The property, called Neptune springs, is owned by a widow, who, with her daughter, stands at the old-fashioned well affair, and sells the water to tourists who visit her in great numbers. The water is the purest kind of lithia, cool and pleasant to the taste. Recently she was offered $45,000 for Neptune springs, which has other good springs aside from Ponce on it. It is located a short distance from the ruins of the old stone wall and gates of the city of St. Augustine, used when this was a province of Spain and when a Spanish governor general occupied as a residence the building now used by Uncle Sam as a post office. Not far away are the ruins of the old Spanish Fort Marion, wrecked and ruined by shell from the gunners who fought under the stars and stripes. Ponce de Leon's find is now well within the confines of the city. The widow thought it too valuable to dispose of. So she refused the offer of $45,000 and goes on lulling out water from Ponce's well as though she had not tossed aside a small fortune.

GOOD USE FOR PHONOGRAPH.

It Howls for the Police When Fiat of Its Owner is Invaded.

The wave of crime which has been passing over Paris lately and which the police seem quite powerless to prevent has caused the citizens to adopt various devices to protect their homes from invasion by the Apaches. Dogs having proved utterly useless, more than one family has sought protection by placing a stand with a parrot or cockatoo possessing a specially loud squawk just inside their flats—almost everyone in Paris lives in a flat. An electrical engineer, however, has found a phonograph the best possible watchman. He locates it with the megaphone attachment directed to the door and he has wired the hall and arranged batteries so that the moment the door is opened three inches the phonograph gets into action. It begins to bellow "Police! Help! Murder! Thieves!" and it keeps it up until he gets out of bed and turns off the current. His flat is well furnished with plate and other valuables and several attempts have been made to rob it, but no thieves have yet withstood the phonograph bombardment. They run so quickly that they are never caught.

Copper in Africa.

It is believed by some that the greatest copper industry in the world will be developed in the Tanganyika region, where these properties are of great potential value, and may prove to be one of the greatest factors in carrying civilization into the heart of Africa. Much time is required for developments. Because of the heavy speculation in the shares these may suffer much before the properties become dividend earning. The Benguelo railway cannot well be completed for five years or so, and even the Rhodesia railways extensions are now to require a couple of years ere they can reach the property. Robert Williams is the pioneer aid, in a great measure, the organizer of this vast undertaking, one of the most remarkable of modern times.

Best Sleep of All.

"The first impression is the one you should always go by," the little grass widow advised. "I know by experience, I have never yet had a husband that I liked at first sight. He always had to win me. Then, after I had been married awhile, I invariably went back to my first impression of dislike that kept on getting worse and worse till I had to leave him. I shall never marry again," she finished, "unless I fall head over heels in love with him the first minute I meet him."

Preocious Children.

In the world of music we find many instances of boys giving an early indication of a remarkable career. Handel and Mozart each showed a liking for music when young in years, and soon made their mark. Handel began composing a church service for voices and instruments when only nine years old, and before he was 15 he had composed three operas. Mozart began the piano at three, and at seven he taught himself the violin. At nine years of age he visited England, and on his departure he gave a farewell concert, of which all the symphonies were composed by himself.

Forrest's Principle.

Here is a brief summing up of Gen. N. R. Forrest: "He was a man of humble birth and little education, a trader in slaves and mules, grave, silent, unobtrusive, but possessed of military genius of a high order. As a leader of cavalry he was unequalled and knew no fear. During his service he was destined to take part in 129 actions, and to have 27 horses shot under him. In one terse sentence he summed up his art of war: 'To get that first with the most men.'—From the 'Appeal to Arms and the Civil War.'

New Yorkers Gave a Banquet to Japs.

New York, May 18.—The entertainment of the Japanese army and navy officers now in New York reached its climax last night in a banquet given in the grand ball room of the Hotel Astor by prominent citizens of the city. The guests of honor were Vice Admiral Aoki, Japanese ambassador to the United States, Gen. Kuroki and Vice Admiral Tada. Included with them were the members of Gen. Kuroki's party and the officers of the Japanese cruisers Tanikuba and Chitose. Admiral Dewey, senior officer of the United States navy, presided.

SALT CELLAR OF LONG AGO.

Was Distinctive Mark of Caste in the Middle Ages.

"This is a medieval salt cellar," said the antiquary. "It is huge, it is shaped like a castle, it is solid silver and the price—but what is the use telling the price to you? Very magnificent, eh? In the middle age, you know, the salt cellar was the principal table ornament. Guests sat above or below the salt as they were prominent or the reverse. Where do you think you'd have sat, eh? Quer table manners they had in those days. The fastidious had individual knives, forks and spoons, but the common people ate with their fingers. You helped yourself from the general dish with your own spoon if you had one, but if you were very, very fastidious you licked the spoon clean first. The food was queer—rich, rank food—swans, herons, porpoises, garlic, verjice, saffron. There was meat and wine in floods and ushers stood about whose duty it was to lead to convenient couches such guests as had dined too well. These ushers, being overworked, were continually striking for more pay. The hours were queer, too. Breakfast, dawn; dinner, ten o'clock; supper, four o'clock in the afternoon."

TAKING NO MORE CHANCES.

Keepers Had Special Cartridges For Poor Marksman.

Dr. Seward Webb at a dinner at Shelburne Farms, his great Vermont estate, said of a certain poor marksman: "Visiting his English brother-in-law, he shot the head keeper in the leg the first morning he tried pheasant shooting. The man limped away cursing horribly. Next day he had wretched luck, though the wounded head keeper without malice had assigned him to a fairly good place. Bang, bang, bang, went his gun every few seconds, but not a bird fell before it. Hewas much embarrassed. It seemed, too, that at each of his misses the under keepers smiled at one another oddly. Finally his cartridges gave out. He hurried to the nearest keeper and demanded more. 'There ain't no more, sir,' the man answered. 'No more?' Nonsense. Why, you've got at least 1,000 in that box.' The keeper flushed and stammered: 'Ah, but them ain't for you, sir. They're for another gent. They've got shot in 'em, sir.'"
